

•• This makes my skin feels supple and radiant and it heals blemishes in an instant!
 Skin Inc Vitamin C elixir, $96.30, from The Sloane Clinic

• My trusty lil' string bag, which was a gift. It's so handy to keep a tote on hand - I never know when I might need to pick up some organic veggies!

• I've always had an interest in all things creative, and photography gives instant gratification!
 Canon 450D camera, $1,199, from Canon

• I can't manage without my smartphone now that I'm so busy juggling GreenKampong.com, O-SEL and all my other activities. I'd never get anything done without it!

Top on my list

Actress, model, eco-activist, entrepreneur, celebrity - just a few of the words you could use to describe Fly Entertainment artiste Nadya Hutagalung. Right now she splits her time between designing and creating eco-conscious jewellery for her brand O-SEL, and her latest calling - greenkampong.com, a website she's recently set up to help lead the green revolution. We got her to share some of the things she can't live without.

• I stock up on these because non-organic cotton requires loads of pesticide and chemicals during processing. It's wonderful to have an organic option so easily available!
 Organic cotton rounds, $3.50, from The Bodyshop

• These nugget earrings are made from reclaimed gold and studded with tiny diamonds - I wear them almost every day!
 Diamond/gold earrings, $1,890, from O-SEL

• Love the way this leaves my hair smelling, and it keeps my hair in good condition too!
 Dr Hauschka Jojoba and Marsh Mallow conditioner, $40, from Supernature

• Thermage is a great non-invasive way to keep my skin tight and firm!
 Thermage treatments, $5,500, from The Sloane Clinic

• I love that everything from Stella McCartney looks great and is totally free of animal products.
 Satin heels (price unreleased) from Stella McCartney

• This biodegradable body wash is even sexier because Brad Pitt has something to do with it!
 Kiehl's Aloe Vera Biodegradable bodywash, $35, from Kiehl's

• Organic chocolate does taste better! It's our favourite five

• This guide is a great idea - it's always handy to know where to
