DEEP CLEANSING

What: Ultrasonic deep cleansing, which uses low-level ultrasonic energy to remove blackheads and whiteheads.

What it involves: Different doctors do it differently, but most places, such as The DRX Medspa and The Sloane Clinic, carry out this treatment before a facial. At The Sloane Clinic, Dr Low Chal Ling applies a vitamin C solution in between two bouts of ultrasonic cleansing to brighten skin. After cleansing, a specially formulated detox gel with anti-bacterial and anti-inflammatory benefits is applied to soothe skin. This is usually followed by the Clear Blue or Deep Red Facial, $180 each, which uses light energy to rejuvenate skin. Side effects: There is no downtime but patients may experience some redness, which should be temporary. Results: Cleaner skin that is less prone to breakouts. One session a month can replace regular facial extraction. Cost: From $80.
