EYES WIDE SHUT

That said, is even unadulterated mineral makeup really good enough to sleep in? The Sloane Clinic's Dr Low Chai Ling strongly disagrees.

"In my practice, I still see cases of sensitivity and outbreaks caused by mineral makeup. I have no idea if this only applies to certain brands or all brands of mineral makeup, but I tell my patients not to be lured into a false sense of security just because they are using mineral makeup. Allergic reactions are still possible, and cleansing and removal of makeup is still mandatory whatever makeup you wear," she stresses.
