JASMINE LEE, 36, FINANCIAL CONSULTANT

BEFORE

MAKE-UP: Light make-up and pale lip gloss.
HAIR: Slightly layered, dyed reddish-brown.
SKIN: Dehydrated, with some fine lines.

... look generally," says Kerrie Pan, founder of Luxe Monsoon Hair Studio. "So I gave her a layered cut, which frames her face, and medium-length highlights that enhance her skin tone."

MINI MAKEOVER:

Jasmine appears a little washed-out and tired with her current make-up — it's a little too natural. A brighter lip colour will give her the lift she needs.

FACEWORK (BRIGHTEN): Try wearing a more intense lipstick shade than the one you normally wear. "A brighter shade instantly lights up your skin and gives you a fresh, youthful glow," says make-up artist Emma Lim.

THROW TO SPARKLE: We swapped Jasmine's white eye shadow for silver. Then, we defined her eyes with black eyeliner and mascara.

LEARN TO CONFIDENCE: Jasmine wanted a sharper shape to her face, and this was possible with contouring powder brushed under her jawline.

PROFESSIONAL PLAN A DISCIPLE: "One-length hair can drag down your features, and uneven hair volume

ILLUMINATE IN THREE DAYS: The Luminizing Peel, a three-day peel programme, $1,070, treats dull skin with medical-grade ingredients and lightwave therapy to reduce melanin production, lighten blemishes, brighten skin, enhance cell renewal and boost collagen production. At The Sloane Clinic, #03-18 IDN Orchard. Tel: 6509 8108. www.sloaneclinic.com

LIFT AND FIRM UP SKIN: The Restylane Hydrolift uses hyaluronic acid, a naturally occurring sugar compound in your body, as fillers to "plump up" lines — like those from your nose to the outside of your lips. The filler is injected into the skin (under local anaesthetic) to instantly fill up lines. Plus, hyaluronic acid stimulates the production of the skin's own collagen over the next few weeks. Most women need yearly top-ups. Costs vary depending on how much you get. Prices from $7,800 (full face). At The Sloane Clinic, #03-01 Chevron House. Tel: 6533 2522.

Foundation can actually help sensitive skin like Sarah's so it acts like a shield against external aggressors and gives your skin a more even appearance.

CUT AND HIGHLIGHT: Sarah's face is slightly longer, and a long hairstyle makes this more obvious.

"I gave her a shorter cut, with medium-length highlights to lighten her complexion and match her cheekbones," explains Kerrie. With the new look, Sarah looks sharper and more confident.

GREEN UP SKIN: Sarah's cold-weather regimen to her current skin-care regime to show dark spot formation and speed up the skin renewal process.

Current recommends the use of skin-lightening make-up bases such as the vitamin UV Underbase Cream. Before applying foundation to further illuminate her skin. A blusher creates a healthy rosy glow, while make-up highlighter "sharpen" facial features.
